BUYER & CELLAR

Alex More.....AJ Lorenzini

This production is presented with no intermission.

DIRECTOR'S NOTES - GREGORY STEIBER

Barbra Streisand is complicated.

Last year, I was invited to direct the play Buyer & Cellar for the Fort Wayne Civic Theatre. I was vaguely familiar with the concept of the script: a fictitious, one man show about an unemployed actor who takes a job on the lush grounds of Barbra Streisand's Malibu mansion. I had heard that the character works in her basement, manning a retail store, specializing in all-things-Barbra. I, also, heard that the man has only one customer... Ms. Streisand herself.

Needless to say, I was intrigued. After reading the script for the first time, my enthusiasm grew. The challenge of staging a play with only one actor was enticing. The fact that the actor is required to portray multiple characters was exciting. But as I delved further, my anxiety began to grow. Of the characters represented in the play, I was frightened to read that one of the primary figures is the one and only Barbra. How do I guide a male actor in embodying a virtual legend and icon?

I do not claim to be an authority on the career and history of Barbra Streisand. This is what I know: she is undoubtedly one of the most celebrated singers of our lifetime. She is an Emmy, Tony and Oscar winning actress, director and producer. She is sometimes considered "controversial" in her political views. Some call her self-absorbed. Others call her a genius. People have strong opinions about Barbra Streisand.

As we began to rehearse, I was reminded of where the true success of realizing a play is found. When a script is as well written as Buyer & Cellar, a director's best bet is to present the story honestly. From there, all of the wit, intelligence and humanity spring eternal. It doesn't hurt to have an actor with all of those qualities. With our leading man, AJ Lorenzini, we have them in abundance. Not to mention the dynamic work of the Civic's production staff.

The script is masterfully written. It keeps you laughing at every turn. Equally, the story makes you think about how we hold celebrity at such lofty heights. Does someone like the legendary Barbra Streisand deserve our humility and subservience? On bended knee, are we worthy?

Join us in the Parkview Physicians Group ArtsLab as the lights come up on Buyer & Cellar and decide.

ALEX MORE - AJ LORENZINI

AJ LORENZINI (Alex More) is thrilled to be returning for his third production with Fort Wayne Civic Theatre! You may remember him as Dr. Frederick Frankenstein (that's Fronkinsteen!) in Civic's 2016 production of Young Frankenstein: The Musical, and are much less likely to remember him as Sketch in Civic's 2011 production of Hairspray. AJ has also appeared locally as Angel in Rent, Beadle Bamford in Sweeney Todd, and Lord Burgundy in King Lear. AJ holds a Bachelor's in Theatre Education from Ball State University, where he appeared in their main stage productions of A Christmas Carol and Romeo & Juliet, as well as being a three-year cast member of the Ball State University Singers. AJ is currently a teacher at New Haven High School, where he teaches English and helps run the drama department. He would like to give big thanks to his husband Jesse, his loving friends and family, Greg, the production team, and Phillip, all for believing he could take on this insane task. Most of all, he would like to thank anyone who is reading this, because that means you paid good money to come watch him goof around for 90 minutes. He cannot thank you enough for that.

DIRECTOR - GREGORY STIEBER

GREGORY STIEBER returns to Civic Theatre having previously directed Romance, Romance, 1776, To Kill a Mockingbird, Into the Woods and Les Misérables. He has served as writer and director for Fort Wayne Youtheatre's award-winning Young Heroes of Conscience Series for the past five years. His other directing credits include Vanities and A Streetcar Named Desire for Arena Dinner Theatre; The Baltimore Waltz, A Piece of My Heart and Blood Wedding for IPFW Department of Theatre; Gregory

According to the National Department of Education and the National Endowment for the Arts, “arts learning experiences can alter the attitudes of young people toward themselves and each other. For example, students involved in sustained theater arts (scene study, acting techniques, and dramatic or musical theater production) often show gains not only in reading proficiency, but also in self-control and motivation and in empathy and tolerance for others. Learning in and through the arts can even help students overcome the obstacles of disadvantaged backgrounds.” Businesses understand that arts education helps youth develop a positive work ethic and pride in a job well done, can help troubled youth by providing an alternative to destructive behavior, and aid youth to develop a sense of craftsmanship, quality task performance and goal-setting.

Children find that the theater can offer an emotional safe haven from family turmoil, that achievement in the art and friendships built during the show process embolden them as they enter new situations of various kinds, that their performances bring the broader community together in pride, that their horizons are expanded through trips to theaters outside of their immediate neighborhoods, and that they get a glimpse of the wide-ranging cultural world. All of this leads to a confident, self-motivated youth, empowered with life skills that create a self-reliant person who is successful in school, work, and life. As adults, these same individuals become assets to their community, having learned and developed many skills which they need in order to live and work in a society, and are highly employable.

In short, the arts are as much a part of a child’s development and success as they are a part of a successful and enlightened society.

Meet the Fort Wayne Civic Theatre Staff

Phillip H. Colglazier, Executive/Artistic Director

Phillip has served as the Civic Theatre's Executive/Artistic Director since 2000 after serving as Managing Director of Edyvean Repertory Theatre (E.R.T.) in Indianapolis. Before E.R.T. he worked for Fort Wayne Civic Theatre 6 years as Interim Executive Director, Development/Education Director, and Guest Director/Choreographer. He was honored as the 2008 Arts Administrator by the Indiana Coalition for the Arts. Phillip performed 12 years professionally as an Actors Equity Member in musical theatre and television in Seoul, Korea, Vienna, Rome and throughout the U.S. He obtained his Bachelors in Speech Communication and Theatre from Ball State.

Eunice Wadewitz, Music/Education Director

Eunice has spent her whole career in one form of music or another. She began teaching piano, playing organ for church, and playing piano 5 hours a day for tea time at the L'Orangerie Lounge in the Downtown Hilton. She then moved on to become choir and handbell choir director as well as organist for several churches before moving into the realm of theater. Once she tried theater, there was no going back, and the Civic Theatre has happily been her home for the last 20+ years.

Mahlon Houlihan, Business Manager

Mahlon joined the Civic staff in October of 2006 after serving as Business Manager for the Embassy Theatre Foundation for five years. He formerly worked as an independent computer consultant specializing in custom software development and system design with a concentration in business and financial applications. He brings a strong background and a degree in Computer Technology to the position along with previous finance experience in the not-for-profit sector. Mahlon owns and fosters Greyhounds and is proud "dad" to five at the current moment.

Elise Ramel, Marketing Director

Elise has worked in marketing and public relations for over 30 years. She began her career at The Asher Agency, a full-service advertising and PR firm in Fort Wayne. She has worked on staff and as a consultant for many area non-profit organizations and private sector companies. Elise received a Bachelor's Degree from Central Michigan University. Her hobby is seeing as many Broadway and off-Broadway shows as possible with her daughter each year. She loves living in Fort Wayne and being a part of this amazing theatre community.

Corey Lee, Technical Director/Lighting Designer

Corey is proud to be starting his third season at the Civic. He is a graduate of IPFW, where he received a degree in both Theatre and Secondary Education. Corey started working backstage in middle school. While working on Jekyll and Hyde at Northrop High School in 2005, he fell in love with the show and theatre. Corey has designed and worked with IPFW, Mikautadze Dance Theatre, Youtheatre, University of St Francis, Fort Wayne Summer Music Theatre, and First Presbyterian Theatre. Corey would like to thank his family for all of their support. www.coreylee.com

Adam Fletcher, Scenic Designer

A native of nearby North Manchester, Adam first became involved in theatre as local crew for the Honeywell Center in Wabash, and as a carpenter for the Muncie Civic Theatre. After earning a BA in Theatre from IPFW in 2013, he has since served the area's theatre community as master carpenter for the Fort Wayne Civic, where he began interning in 2011, and as scenic designer for Fort Wayne Youth Theatre, Canterbury Schools, and Wabash Area Community Theatre. This is Adam's second season as Scenic Designer for Civic.

Angela Sahli, Costume Designer

Angela has been a part of live theatre since she was young, experiencing collaboration both on-stage and behind the scenes. After finishing her BA in Musical Theatre from Northern State University, she pursued her interest in costume design. She earned a Master of Fine Arts in costume design at Minnesota State University, Mankato - developing her passion and skills in the craft. Angela has designed for Great River Educational Arts Theatre, Cathedral High School, Highland Summer Theatre, Minnesota State University Mankato, Northern State University, and the Northern Fort Playhouse. www.AngelaSahliCostumes.com

Victoria Gardner, Scenic Artist/Volunteer Coordinator

Victoria started herself towards a career in theatre when she began volunteering for the Fort Wayne Civic Theatre in 2010. She attended the University of Saint Francis and graduated in 2015 with a Bachelor of Arts in Painting. She completed three internships and worked part time with the Civic before becoming their Scenic Artist and Volunteer Coordinator. She is more than happy to be working for the Fort Wayne Civic Theatre, pursuing a career in a field she loves, and to be creating productions that the whole community can enjoy.

By William Shakespeare
Directed by Bev Redman

But soft, what light through yonder window breaks? It is the east, and Juliet is the sun. Romeo's words do not yet hint at the tragedy that will unfold in one of Shakespeare's most popular plays. His young star-crossed lovers, must navigate the hatred of their feuding families, the Capulets and Montagues, in a vain attempt to be together. This production will focus on the influences Romeo and Juliet's families exert on them while referencing and exploring our own current state of affairs in the United States.
